

THREE N. D. MEN GIVEN PLACES ON ALL-STAR ELEVEN

Eichenlaub, Dorais and Rockne
Selected by Critic For All-
Western — First Two Rank
With Best in Country.

Notre Dame is given double recognition in the Chicago Daily News by Lambert G. Sullivan, well known football critic in selection of an all-western team. On his all-star eleven he names three Notre Dame men, Eichenlaub, Dorais and Rockne, while he selects the squad from the conference school teams and other "major" eleven; namely, Michigan, Nebraska, Notre Dame and Michigan Agricultural college. The ranking of Notre Dame with the big teams outside the fold is regarded as the beginning of a steady rise into country-wide prominence by the school.

Regarding the comparative strength of the east and west he says: "With the west victor in all five of the inter-sectional battles waged this autumn, it must be conceded the gridiron game in this division is better than in the east. This has been because the 'new' or 'open' game has been further advanced than in the east; not because the material here is better. There are five men in the west, however, who stand on a par with anything the east has produced, Des Jarden and Norgren of Chicago, Dorais and Eichenlaub of Notre Dame and Craig of Michigan."

In selection of ends he says in part of Rockne: "Rockne is a trackman when his attention is not occupied by football, and his speed stood him in good stead in the gridiron sport. He was fast going down under punts and usually made his mates' kick yield every inch of possible ground. It was well nigh impossible to circle him from any other formation and he was one of the few winners who combined driving power with his speed."

"No other ends stand out as spectacular. Aside from Solon, Huntington of Chicago probably was the most reliable man in the conference. Of late Wisconsin far from lived up to his good work of last year, but ran with the other wing men. Wilson of Illinois, Krause of Indiana, Lyons of Michigan, and Gushurst of Notre Dame, were other good players."

Dorais of Notre Dame outshines other western quarterbacks as the sun outshines the stars. It is doubtful if there is another man in America who could be compared with him, for he is easily the best since the days of Walter Steffens and Pom Sinnock. Closely ranked with the versatile Eddie Gillette last season, his work this year was even better than last and there is no doubt in many minds that the position of All Western quarterback belongs to him.

"There was no part of the game in which Dorais did not show himself great. Kicking, running, passing and generalship were merely departments of his game and he shone in all of them.

Eichenlaub For Fullback. "First place is awarded to Eichenlaub of Notre Dame. The South Bend player is fully the equal of Julian and Shaughnessy in plunging, and in addition is a star kicker and as good at the open game as he is in line plunging. Defensively and offensively Eichenlaub has proved a tower of strength to his team for two years and in that time has been largely responsible for his school's assuming the role of a championship eleven."

The complement of the all-western team is as follows: Rockne, Notre Dame, left end. Butler, Wisconsin, left tackle. Harris, Chicago, left guard. Des Jarden, Chicago, center. Leonardson, M. A. C., right guard. Pontius, Michigan, right tackle. Solon, Minnesota, right end. Dorais, Notre Dame, quarterback. Craig, Michigan, left halfback. Norgren, Chicago, right halfback. Eichenlaub, Notre Dame, fullback. Pliska, of Notre Dame, was given honorable mention in the consideration of halfbacks.

N. D. ELEVEN IS IN AUSTIN, TEXAS

Gold and Blue Squad Banqueted
—Students Still Regard Players in Light of Champions by Comparative Scores.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 25.—The Notre Dame football team arrived here late Monday for their game in Austin Thursday with the Texas university. The entire squad is reported in fine shape. A banquet was given in the players' honor Monday night.

Notre Dame, undefeated by Christian Brothers, still looms up in the opinion of the students, as a formidable contender for championship honors in college football. No team in the country, east or west, can point to a better record they assert. In the west the championship is validly claimed by four brilliant eleven, Nebraska, Michigan Aggies, Chicago and Notre Dame. As none of these teams has played one another and as the amount of comparative score, by which one or more could be eliminated from consideration, is very scanty it appears that there will be no champion but only a number of claimants.

Nebraska with a splendid record to her credit has defeated such prominent eleven as Minnesota and Iowa. Chicago rests her claims to recognition by her triumph in the conference. The Michigan Aggies point to their victories over Michigan, South Dakota and Wisconsin as ample proof that they have an eleven of championship calibre, and Notre Dame by trouncing South Dakota, West Point and Penn State by commanding scores, holds an ace high hand in the draw for championship laurels.

N. D. Beats South Dakota. The gold and blue wallowed South Dakota 20 to 7 when the latter team was in its last shape. Later the Dakotans, minus the services of the best of their team, held the Michigan Aggies to a 19 to 7 count. In the Aggie contest Potts, McCormick and Paulson were not able to start the game for the westerners because of their being suspended from college.

Brown was taken from the South Dakota lineup, further crippling the Cowboys. Judging from the South Dakota games, the Michigan Aggies do not appear as strong as Notre Dame. No comparison is available with Nebraska or Chicago.

Harvard has been given the eastern title, the remarkable triumph of the west over the east this year no longer giving football critics the liberty to proclaim the eastern leaders the champions of the country.

N. D. Shades Harvard. Colgate wallowed Yale 16 to 6. This victory is as substantial as Harvard's 15 to 5 win over Colgate. It is even more so for Harvard was unable to cross the blue's goal line and was forced to depend entirely upon their kicker Brickley, to bring home the bacon. Colgate, on the other hand, smashed two touchdowns across the Yale goal line and topped it off with a field goal and a goal after touchdown to swell their total to 16.

Colgate was downed by the Army, 7 to 6. The West Pointers a week later fell before Notre Dame's savage attack by a count of 35 to 12, the highest score ever amassed on Soldier's field.

HARVARD PLAYER TO WED
Lewis Mills, Who Took Part in Saturday's Game, Engaged.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—As a sequel to Harvard's football victory over Yale on Saturday, came the announcement Monday of the engagement of Ellinore, daughter of Bishop William Lawrence of the Massachusetts diocese, to Lewis Hunt Mills, a Harvard football player and oarsman. Mills, whose home is in Portland, Ore., was a sub-tackle in the game with Yale.

He rowed in the varsity eight at New London in 1912 and 1913.

LAPORTE.—David A. Jones, riding a bicycle, crashed through the plate glass window of a jewelry store here and besides being seriously cut himself, destroyed $30 worth of cut glass. The window will cost $75 to replace.

GOOD BASKETBALL OUTLOOK FOR HIGH

Hard Schedule Including Two Trips Being Arranged by Coach Metzler — Material
Promising Though Light.

With games with Kokomo, Mishawaka, Crawfordsville and the alumni already on the schedule, Coach Metzler has a hard season in prospect for the high school basketball team. Interlaken, Plymouth, North Division high school of Chicago, Lafayette, Knox and Whiting are some of the schools with whom Metzler is negotiating. A trip through Ohio for the Christmas vacation, and a two-day trip to Chicago are also in course of arrangement.

Metzler will have but two men of last year's squad around which to build his squad, Capt. Allen and Forster. Forster should land a regular place on this year's squad, either at forward or at center. There are several stars out for his position and he will have to hustle to hold down the job.

Wealth of Material. A wealth of new material is on hand, and while the candidates are somewhat light, Coach Metzler is of the opinion that they can be developed into one of the fastest squads ever turned out at the local school.

VandenBosch, Cottrell, Staples, Collip and Stanley are showing up well and have a good show of landing a position on the first squad. There is a host of other men who have been showing up to advantage in practice, among them Anderson, Scott, Bucher, Elbel, Dally, Flanagan, Berger, Garfield, Phelan, Fernandez and Miller are some of the strongest men out for positions.

A stiff scrimmage was held in the gymnasium Monday afternoon between composed of VandenBosch, Staples, Miller, Collip, Dally Cottrell and Stanley, and Scott, Bucher, Phelan, Elbel and Anderson. Two other quintets had a hard workout.

With Metzler in charge and Capt. Allen to assist and blue followers of the indoor sport look forward to one of the best seasons in the history of the school.

ATHLETICS BEST FIELDERS

Official American league fielding averages issued last night show the Philadelphia Athletics leaders in club fielding with an average of .966; St. Louis, .965; Cleveland, .962; Chicago, .961; Boston, .961; Washington, .960; New York, .954, and Detroit, .954, follow in the order named.

Stuffy McInnis, with .982 leads the first basemen, Del Gair, formerly of St. Wayne, now with Detroit, ranks fifth with .980.

Lajoie, of Cleveland, is the real leader of the second basemen with .979. McKechnie, formerly of the Wheeling Central league club, in 27 games with New York, fielded .959.

Midkiff, New York, leads the third sackers with .957. Jimmy Austin, St. Louis, another ex-Central leaguer, in 142 games ranks seventh with .944.

Wagner, of Boston, in 105 games leads the short fielders with .965. Ownie Bush, ex-Bender of Detroit, is sixth with .959 in 152 games.

Cree, of New York, led all outfielders with .986. Bert Daniels, of New York, former Notre Dame star, fielded .966 in 90 games. Bert Shotton, St. Louis, another former Central leaguer, fielded .951.

A railroaders' indoor baseball league for the 1913-14 season may result from the interest in the sport being taken by the New York Central nine. The Centrals have won four straight games this fall. They defeated the Grand Trunk team 15 to 12.

The New York Centrals would like to arrange games with amateur teams in the city. For games call Bell 683 or Home 5683 and ask for G. E. Welch, manager.

BIG GAMES IN VARSITY FOOTBALL HISTORY—'04

When Salmon played his last game for Notre Dame in 1903 everybody felt that the gold and blue would miss the sterling fullback for many years. Without the aid of Salmon the varsity eleven in 1904 met with several reverses. The team was composed almost entirely of green men and although they fought pluckily they could not cope with their more experienced opponents.

The gold and blue opened the season with a 12 to 4 win over Wabash. Captain Shaughnessy and McNeerney were the most consistent gainers, while Draper at full did some stellar punting. Shaughnessy circled the Wabash end for the feature of the day's play and sped 85 yards for a touchdown.

Wisconsin overwhelmed the varsity 58 to 6. The light green team was no match for the Badgers but the men fought like demons and never let up till time was called. Six regulars were forced out of the game crippled but the gold and blue refused to give up and made the cardinals work for every point.

"Silver, the Notre Dame quarterback," said the sporting writer of the Milwaukee Free Press, "was badly hurt and despite his protests that he was to go on, he was taken from the game. His absence left a big hole in the Notre Dame team."

Notre Dame triumphed over Ohio Medical at Columbus 17 to 5. In this game, Punk at tackle, turned out to be a find. The following week the varsity fell before Kansas University 5 to 0. Notre Dame outplayed the Kansans during the first half but the long journey from South Bend began to tell on the gold and blue and the westerners finally won out by a single touchdown. Guthrie tore off a 65 yard run for a touchdown but it was not allowed.

Depaun lost to the gold and blue 10 to 0. McNeerney who had been laid up since the Wisconsin game celebrated his return by chalking up a 75 yard run for a score. Bencom at guard also put up a good game. For the first time in four years Notre Dame bowed to Purdue and lost the state championship by a 38 to 0 score. Captain Shaughnessy in his last game for Notre Dame fought hard all the way. Silver also played a wonderful game.

'GOAT' ANDERSON IS NOT PLANNING TO BECOME 'FED'

Denies Reports He Will Desert
Organized Baseball — Expected to Return to Terre Haute Next Season.

Reports that he will desert organized baseball were denied Monday night by Edward J. (Goat) Anderson, manager of the Terre Haute Central league club. According to Anderson he expected to go back to Terre Haute next year as leader again until he read stories with Terre Haute date lines stating he would not manage there next season as he was planning to join some Federal league club.

Goat stated Monday night he had absolutely no dealings with any Federal league club, including the Indianapolis club with whom latest reports state he has decided to sign for 1914.

"I have made no definite plans for 1914," he said. "But I expect, as far as I know now, to return to Terre Haute. The newspaper reports that I was to join the Federal league were the first intimation I had that I was not to return to Terre Haute."

Board Ruling Cause. The names of all ball players supposed to be dissatisfied with their present berths are linked with the Federal league nowadays. Bill McKeechie and Rivington Bisland, former Central and big league players, are the latest said to have decided to play with the Federals next season. Both are reported to have been signed by Whoa Bill Phillips for his Indianapolis Peds.

Phillips, who is well known here as former manager of the Wheeling Centrals, is planning on building practically an entirely new team next year. He will retain only a few of his last year's men among them Big Kaiserling, on the South Bend pitching staff of 1912, and Biddy Dolan, a first basemen with Terre Haute the same year.

The local baseball situation remains unchanged except that assurance of organized baseball for South Bend within two weeks at the most has been predicted by men concerned. The managerial question has already bobbed up and among the early possibilities named is "Doc" White, the well known Chicago dentist, finger, and Jack of all professions. Local baseball men assert there is no possible chance to land White, who has a Pacific Coast league position in view.

WANT PLAYERS TO REPORT

Captains Request Squads to Report at "Y" Wednesday.

The newly appointed captains in the Y. M. C. A. Commercial Basketball league have made a request that every members of their respective squads on Wednesday night for the final practice before the opening of the season Friday night. Three practice games will be staged so that the captains may give their men a final tryout.
